APPENDIX A

Louisiana Revised Civil Code of 1950

Art. 667. Limitations on use of property

Although a proprietor may do with his estate whatever he pleases, still he cannot make any work on it, which may deprive his neighbor of the liberty of enjoying his own, or which might cause any damage to him.

Art. 2317. Acts of others and of things in custody

We are responsible, not only for the damages occasioned by our own act, but for that which is caused by the act of persons for whom we are answerable, or of the things which we have in our custody. This, however, is to understood with the following modifications.

[There follows six articles dealing with acts of minors; acts of insane persons; acts of servants, students or apprentices; damage caused by animals; damage caused by ruin of buildings; and users of blood, organs, or tissue; a medical service; none of which are produced in this Appendix because they have no relevance to this action.]